What does our pay gap tell us?

The make-up of our business, with significantly more men at senior levels means our average male salary is higher than our average female salary. A higher proportion of female recruits has further increased the gap in the short term.

We have a larger proportion of women in our junior roles. Our bonus pay gap reflects the lower female representation across the firm's more senior levels.

Working to close the gap

ACL believes in fair access and this includes promoting gender equality at all levels.

Recruitment processes have been reviewed to ensure there is no gender bias.

Programmes to offer a broad range on mentoring and development are on offer.
