

Airport Coordination Limited (ACL)

12-month fixed-term, part-time Communications and Engagement Exec

Agile working with office location in Staines-Upon-Thames

Do you have an interest in client communications and online content engagement? ACL is looking for a Communications and Engagement Executive to join their small Commercial Team.

ACL is the world's leading and largest Airport Slot Coordinator, working with over 70 airports worldwide. ACL perform an important role as part of the aviation industry, ensuring efficient use of capacity and better operational performance at airports.

In this role you will be responsible for the creation of compelling online content and exploring ways to engage ACL's audience; working with ACL's wider team to grow ACL's global coordination business and enhance ACL's brand. The successful candidate will engage with audiences across the aviation community including airports, airlines, industry bodies and businesses operating in and around airports.

This 12-month fixed-term, part-time role is a brilliant opportunity for a commercially minded candidate to develop their communication, content creation and marketing skills; building on an established online marketing campaign. Predominantly working remotely, this role is ideal for a candidate entering or returning to the workplace and looking for greater work flexibility. After the fixed-term, there is opportunity for longer-term employment and development for the right candidate.

You must have the right to live and work in the UK. All applicants are required to submit their current CV and covering letter to Marion.Thornton@acl-uk.org.

Airport Coordination is an equal opportunities employer.
